A yearbook can mean many things; it is a record of a year just passed, a job well done, and something to look back on and reminisce as our hair grays. We the staff of the 1974 Mexicanian have chosen "Emotions" as the theme for our yearbook because during the course of a school day many different moods are experienced. We hope that the feelings put forth on these pages may mean as much to all who enter herein as it does to the class of nineteen hundred and seventy-four.

*With love,
Bonnie and Darlys*

The Same Old Faces

1. The print shop seems to be the most logical place to find a bit of fun these days. 2. Hey, Renee' we're on film. 3. Mr. Chubb and Mr. Bradish look out over the beautiful grassy lawns of MACS. 4. A cat nap seemed to be the most logical thing for Fred Tourout to do at the time. 5. Debi Cotton and Ray Peterson study lay-out patterns after school for the year-book. 6. Wanda lives in a world of her own. 7. The Matadors pose for an informal shot in front of the fountain in Long Island.

At the Top of the Ladder

Seniors work hard and play rough. Yet in all seriousness they realize that the passing of one phase of life into another phase will approach them at graduation day. 1. Seniors spend each morning in the auditorium. 2. A face often seen in homeroom was Mr. Russell. 3. Mrs. Mack, class advisor and Ray Peterson, class president discuss upcoming activities of the class. 4. Seniors pose for class picture.

Look at the new girl.

That bell will never ring.

What's the reason now Gregg??

OOPS!! Caught in the act.

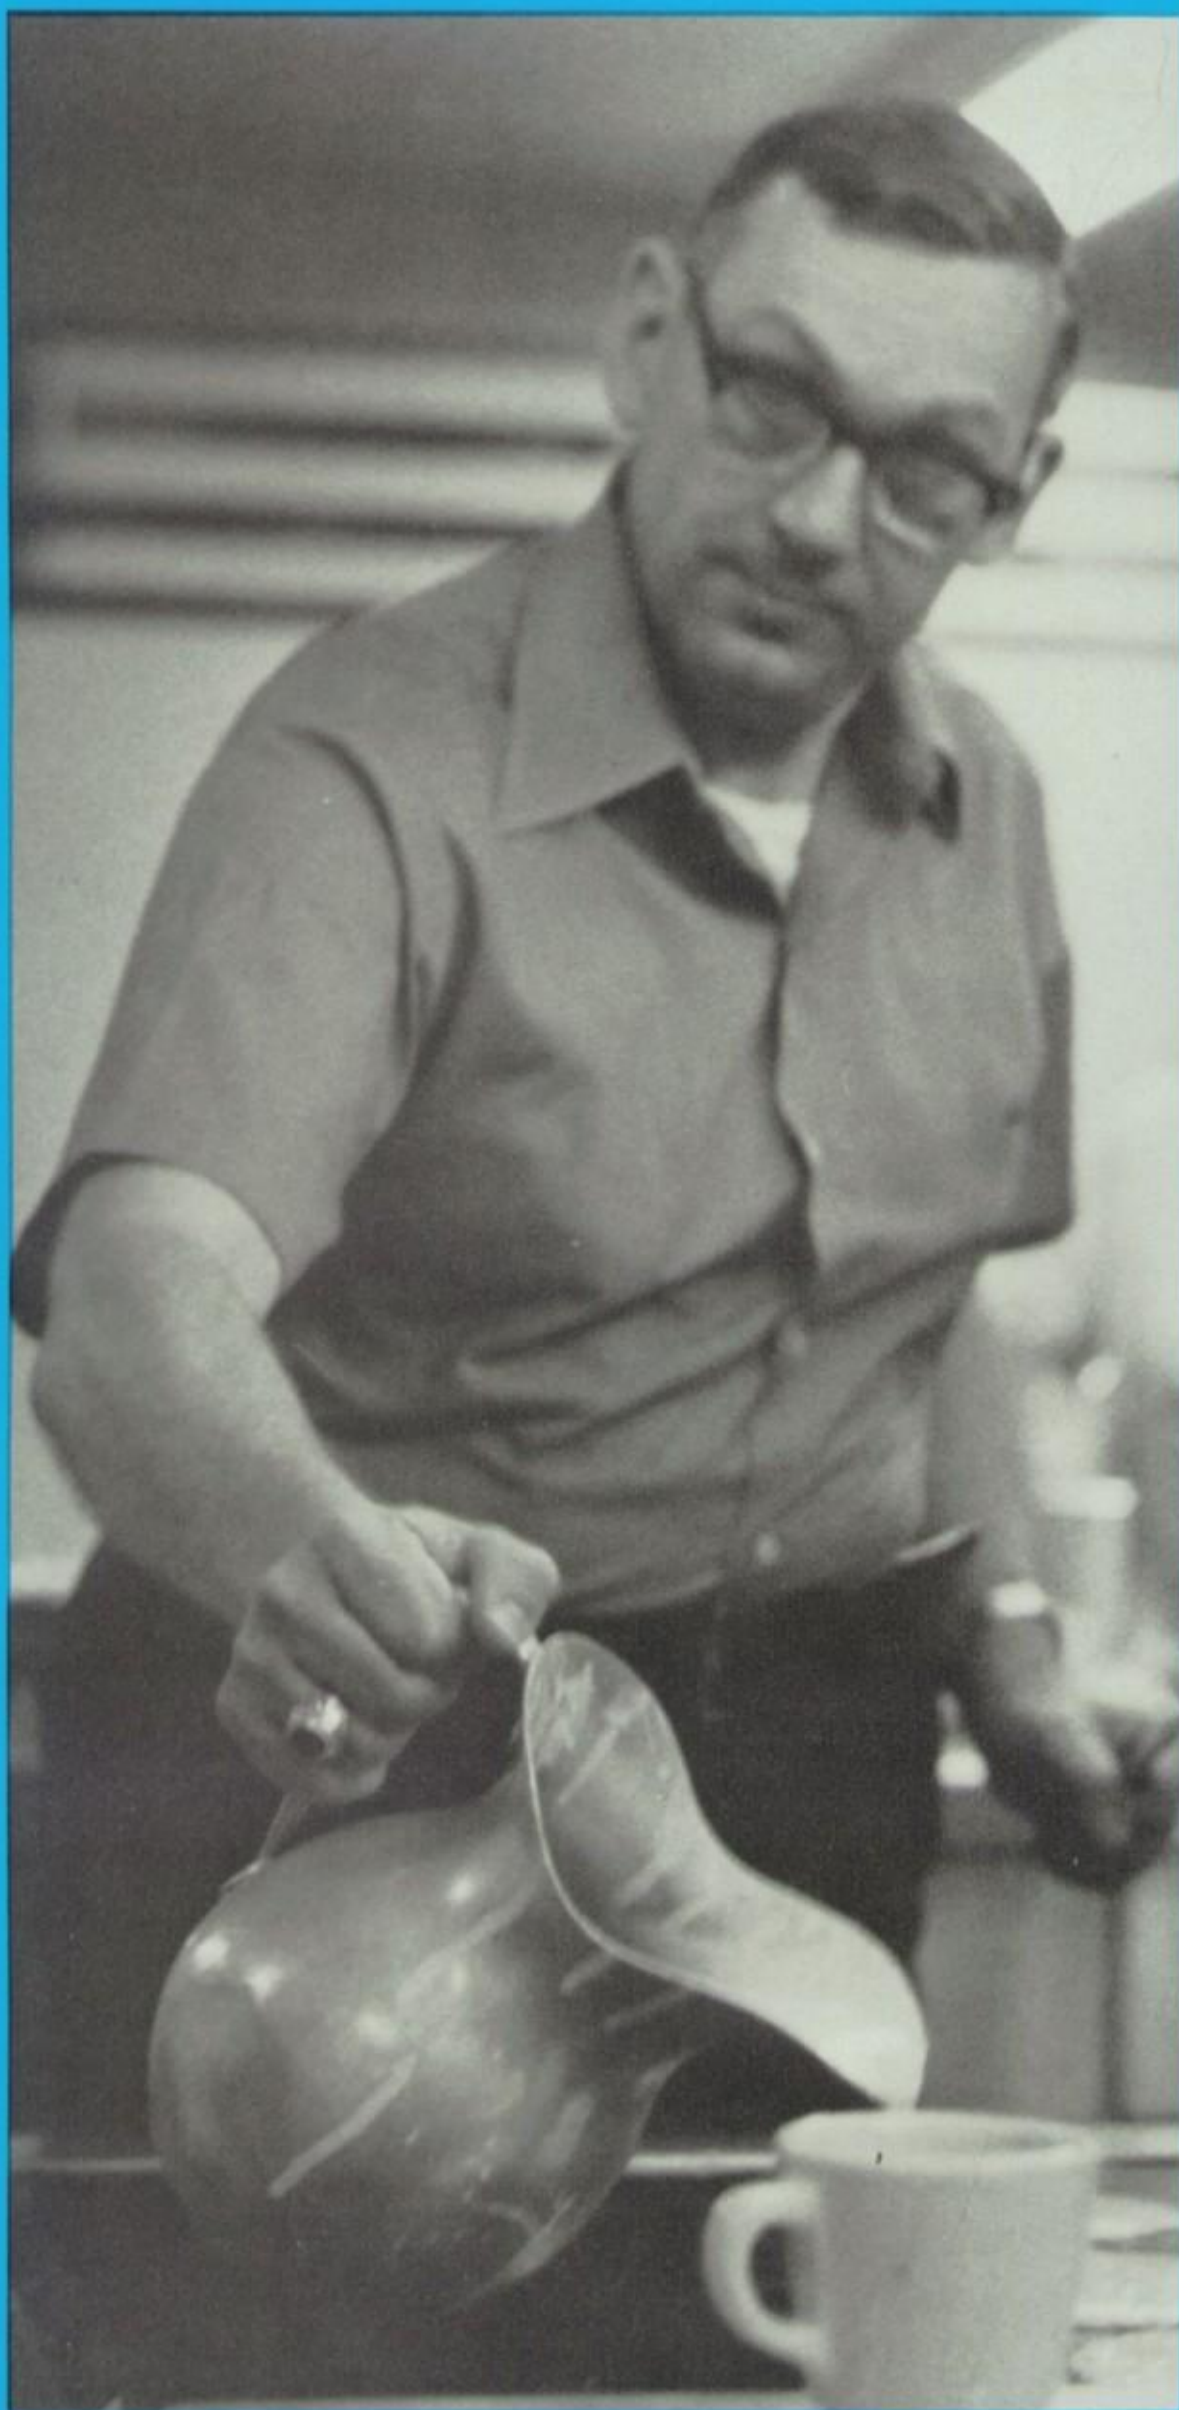

Ah My last year.

Did someone say Fred Tourout?

Everyday Living

The feelings conveyed through faces and motions read a thousand words. The emotional aspects of pictures convey only real feelings on paper. 1. Mr. Sutliff looks thoroughly contented as he prepares the seniors' breakfast. 2. Jenee gratefully accepts a gift, a reward for a job well done as President of GAC, from Mrs. Sicke. 3. Michelle seems to be having a hard time remembering what she was supposed to remember. 4. Jerry Smith runs determinatively toward the end of the track and a much wanted victory. 5. Sue Askew found cheerleading a little frustrating at the beginning of the football season. 6. Kirk Torok and Mary Leonard share a coke while discussing the final exam.

Student Life

1. Mr. Kelley, though injured in battle never gives up the war for the perfect scheduling system. 2. A group of students find that togetherness gets the history project done a lot faster. 3. Ad shown here on the front billboard, the band was busy a good share of the time financing their trip to Italy. 4. They say that birds of a feather flock together, and so it seemed at the GAC banquet last year.

FACES

1. Bob Kuhn seems to be having a few down days lately. 2. Roger Sprague sends another trespasser of the MACS tennis courts to its justful end. 3. Kathy Cox seems upset at the idea of having her picture taken. 4. Dave Babcock adds a little old fashioned self-help to the difficulty of an exam. Wonder what his secret is? 5. Ellen Gosch is shocked by the literature given her by the faculty. 6. Darnece Drake slyly glances at some unsuspecting victim. 7. Adey, Jaci, Cathy, and Hector wave to a lucky photographer.

What a Place!!!

Faces, expressions, gestures . . . emotions! We find so many. We encounter feelings of a large variety, learning from each a new lesson, and forgetting few. Here at MACS, each day brings on a mass of emotions, as the pictures on this page explain. 1. Kelly Ryder strikes a sexy pose for the cameraman. 2. Dave Babcock ran a rough cross country meet last night!! 3. Seniors who play together, stay together. 4. Mr. Kelley keeps the noise at a dull roar. 5. Mr. Barber gladly lends a helping hand! 6. Frau Thayer really settles into her work. Many thanks to a dedicated faculty member! 7. The band works toward perfection.

You Can Meet All Kinds!!

We host a large variety of personalities at MACS, which makes the life here that much more interesting. 1. Mario Chlock, foreign exchange student relaxes. 2. Students release frustrations in the form of art (?) when no other escape is available. 3. Teri Weaver used a creative mind in English 12 to come up with another masterpiece. 4. We're fortunate to have talented AV students. 5. Debbie Burke and friends read over papers carefully.

Life Is Full of Different Faces, Places, and Meanings.

Some learn the hard way, others are lucky. Here at MACS, we face both the good and bad every single minute of the school day. We travel from the excellence of our sports facilities down to the problem of violence and vandalism in the school building itself. A majority of the students are a proud and spirited group, others show no respect for the school or its values as an institution. Perhaps as time goes on, our problems here will be solved, and new ones will face us. 1. A dedicated faculty member, Mrs. Mack, studies papers. 2. Mark Roberts takes time out of a school day to visit with a friend. 3. Mr. Lauria looks on at a tired student. 4. We know both victory and defeat. 5. Mrs. Peggy Marks worked hard to perfect the talents of the cheerleaders. 6. A dedicated coach goes over a play before practice. 7. Ah, but you have to have friends!

To some, traveling is only a dream, but to others like Stasha Lee, Ellen Marion, and Brenda Clark who went to Mexico, Cheryl Barnett, Robin Mack, Debbie Guyle, and Joe Lawton who went to Russia, and Brenda Johnson who went to Germany, traveling is reality.

These people stayed with families in these countries, studied at foreign schools and made new friends. Each has had the experience of broadening their world and to bring some of that country home.

Far Left Top: Due to the weather Jerry and Bob illustrate the bare facts about the activities at school. Left Top: Mexico smiles on the faces of Jane and Hector. Top Left: Darnece in deep thought. Top Center: Terry shocked from having her picture taken. Far Top Right: Denise disgusted over the latest issue. Top Right: Doug and Debbie do the chicken. Left: Cindy's eyes tell all. BROOKHAVEN NATIONAL LABORATORIES — scene of the 1973 State Science Congress sponsored by the Science Teachers Association of New York State.

Under the leadership of Science Club advisor Glenn Crossway, three Mexico Academy students represented all of Central New York at this year's Congress. The competition was intense, but the alma mater won praise in the state's scientific annals. In inter-regional competition, Mexico's first major honor came to Lisa Marshall for the 1972 best Biology Award. When Cliff's project, entitled "The Fourth Pollution: A Profile Study of Noise," received the Environmental Award and Highest Honor, it was another breakthrough for this school's science department. Setting still another precedent, Cliff's and Lillian's projects competed against 12,891 other contestants in a 1974 nation-wide science competition. Mexico's name is by no means obscure in the realm of science.

Cliff Cockerham lecturing to a small group of scientists — judges on noise and acoustics at center stage.

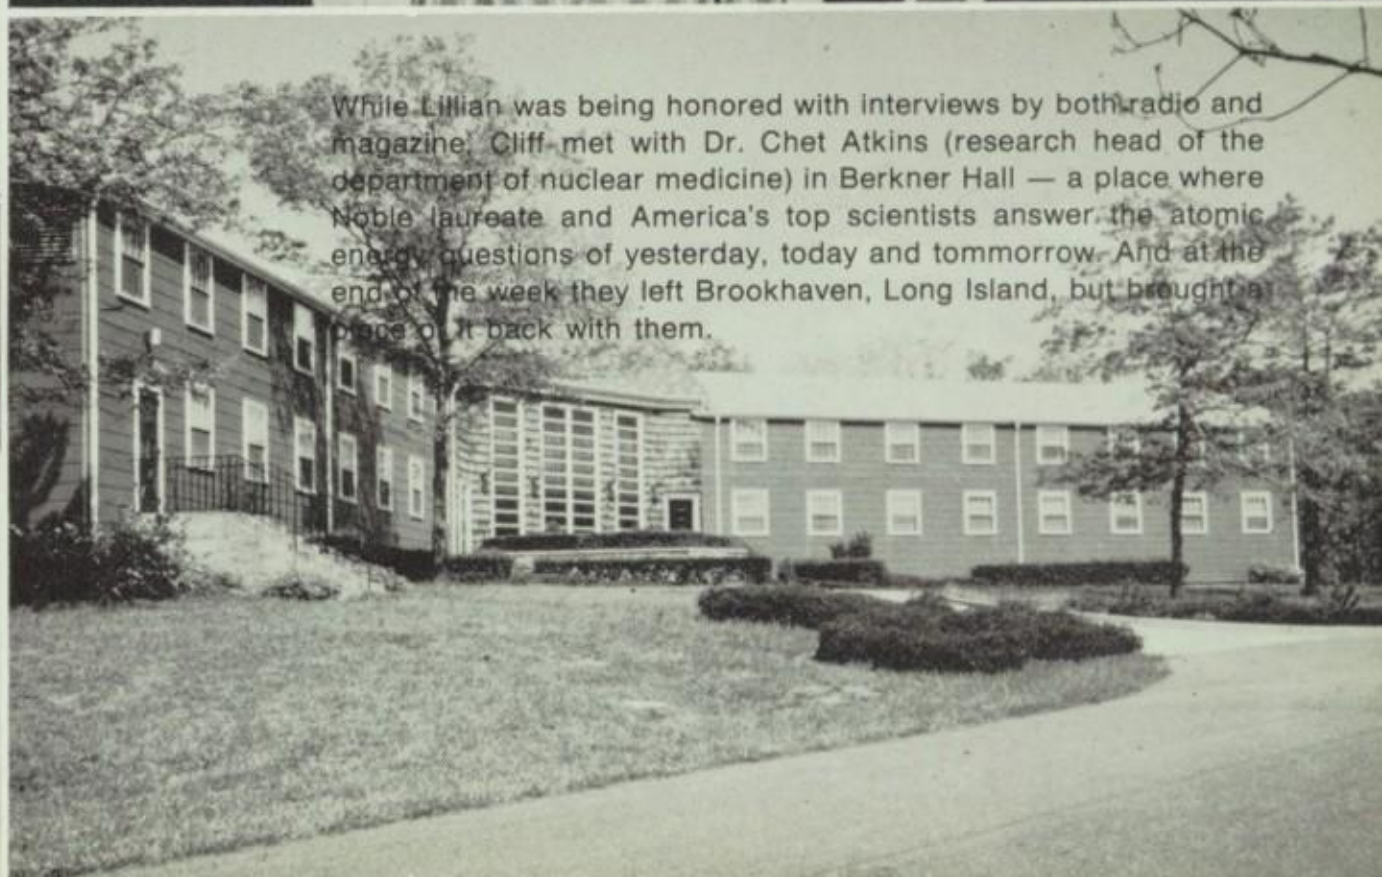

Doug Potter explains fluorescence on the stage where a year of scientific research comes to a conclusion for 26 representatives from Buffalo to Levittown.

Lillian Shoemaker discusses genetics for a full house at Berkner Hall.

Dr. Christian Anderson, Director of the Brookhaven research complex is shown with the three High Honors entrants and congress Co-Chairmen Edith Stillwaggon and Keith Calkins. Seated at the table are the (Cliff Cockerham, Nina Hochstim, and Peter Goldman)

Highest Honors scholars designated as the top in the state. Of the group, only one did not come from a Long Island high school and of all the large schools across the state — he was from Mexico Academy.

While Lillian was being honored with interviews by both radio and magazine, Cliff met with Dr. Chet Atkins (research head of the department of nuclear medicine) in Berkner Hall — a place where Noble laureate and America's top scientists answer the atomic energy questions of yesterday, today and tomorrow. And at the end of the week they left Brookhaven, Long Island, but brought a piece of it back with them.

1., 2. Two of the faces much missed here at MACS are Mrs. Becky Putnam-Schenck, and Mrs. Sicke. These two people are responsible for many of the athletic achievements of the girls here in Mexico. 3. Carla Clawson presents Mrs. Sicke with a token of appreciation. 5. Cindy Cooper, Vicki Vecchio, N. Buske, Cheryl Schneible, Susan Mokry, P. Bogart, Irene Wagner, Jeneé Hathaway, Denise Schneible, Jane Fortier. 6. Denise Schneible, Carol Darrow, Kathy Potter. 7. Darlene Upcraft, Ellen Perlet, Irene Wagner. 8. Denise Schneible, Vicki Mills, Cheryl Annas, Sue Mokry, Annette Mokry, Caroline Babcock, Jacqui Prevost. 9. Becky Gayne, Karin Adkins, C. Annas, Jerry Jerrett, Cheryl Prevost, Vicki Vecchio, Cindy Billings.

The above award winners make up a majority of the outstanding female athletes here at MACS. After hours of hard practices and rough workouts, the girls are quite good and do well in each area of competition. The general attitude of the whole school as far as girls in athletics has changed drastically during the last few years.

This year, one outstanding asset was when the Girls' Varsity Soccer team took a first place in the county's events and went on to the sectionals. This was an accomplishment worthy of congratulations. Each year as time goes on, the spirit, drive, and enthusiasm of the girls grows greater and greater.

Of course I want to win
I train for it, Fight for it Suffer For it and I'd kill any man for a win
but only during the event.

—Hilda Svenson

*If I Win,
They Win.
If I Lose,
They Lose.
Muhammad Ali*

I won because I was better. Maybe not a better man, but a better athlete
—Clavier Bodine

I'm not superman or Captain Marvel. I'm just a guy, flesh and blood, nervous, scared to death sometimes, who has found he can put a basketball into a basket easily and who can do it best when it's important. This is a very nice thing. It's not discovering a cure for a disease or pulling people out of burning, but it's what I do and it's very nice for me to be able to do well.

—Jerry West

Above we see a picture of the Mexico High School. This is where we start making real friendships. There's seldom a day all year in which something exciting or different isn't happening. We grow together and learn together, as can be witnessed by watching Miss Card's class (D. Quesnell, G. Buskey, M. Brown, B. Knight, K. Swinson). However, if we aren't careful, some situations can make us seem unlike ourselves. (Butterscotch doesn't seem to understand Trig either, Mr. Wandersee!!)

Each year the Mexico Academy National Honor Society has the pleasure to get and decorate the Christmas tree for the main lobby. This year the Club decided to make it an old fashioned Christmas in order to conserve energy. They chopped down a tree and made their own decorations ranging from glitter covered marshmallows to strung popcorn and cranberries.

Dave Ruckdeshell proved to be an outstanding member of the tennis team and was recognized as such receiving MVP for Tennis.

Mike Behling received MVP for football, by working hard throughout the season and pushing for improvement.

“Block ‘M’ Banquet—1973”

Stirs Up Memories for Everyone

It would come as no surprise that Biff Harter would receive MVP Basketball to any basketball fan viewing last year's games.

Interestingly enough, Tim Mack now a sophomore received MVP Golf for a most outstanding show of ability.

Of course, with all the seriousness of these awards the varsity club must have a little fun with a joke prize—John Backus.

Dick Drake is shown here accepting his trophy for MVP Baseball, justly awarded.

The Block "M" Banquet is an established ritual where our athletes are awarded for their outstanding performance in a year of high school life. These most valuable players awards are usually decided upon by teammates and coach. In receiving these awards students can feel proud and satisfied for work well done. Most awards given at this banquet are MVP awards.

Muhammed Ali—"You don't come this way but once, and if you don't get anything out of it, it ain't worth it."

A most honorable reward given at this banquet is the coaches Award which was presented to Tom Wolever.

Dave Babcock has become known as a fast man on the track and justified by receiving MVP-Cross Country.

Proven to be one of our excelling wrestlers in 1973, Ray Wallis is seen here accepting his trophy for MVP—Wrestling.

Jerry Anderson received two awards even though only one picture is here. He was elected "Member of the Year" for Varsity Club and given his place as President.

Not only do our guys need the support of spectators, but the support of cheerleaders to organize cheers for everyone's enjoyment of yelling, Debi Cotton was presented with "Cheerleader of the Year."

Speakers

Carmen Basilio—former middle and welter weight Champion of the world.

Mr. Widell—respected teacher and coach at M.A.C.S.

Ben Schwartzwalder—Head coach—Football—Syracuse U.—25 years.

Tom Niland—Athletic director at LeMoyne College.

Along with the participants, we must also have support by fans, Mr. and Mrs. Babcock were "Spectators of the Year" for support given at our sports events.

After her son received "Athlete of the Year," Mrs. Widell was presented with the head table centerpiece.

Horace Backus—prominent member of the Board of Education for Mexico.

Mr. Fogarty—Mexico's director of athletics.

Probably one of our highest regarded awards in sports is the "Athlete of the Year". Tom Widell received this after participating actively in many sports.

Many people wonder what it takes to create and run a successful school program. We, of the Mexicanian staff, believe it takes a combination of fine teachers, eager students, and community support to run a worthwhile school program. Mexico Academy and Central School has many fine teachers, a great number of eager students, and as can be witnessed by the participation of the members of the Board of Education pictured above, MACS has community support.

Because these people are involved in making decisions about many touchy and controversial school matters, they open themselves up to criticism based on their decisions. This is fair because it is our American right to be critical of decisions we are not satisfied with. An openness to criticism clears the way to new and unique viewpoints that may in time be transferred into new and better programs.

Yet, we must find some way to let these people on the Board know we are thankful for the time and effort they put in to make our school great. Being a member of the Board of Education is not all fun and games. It is work that takes time which could be spent with families and friends. This takes a dedicated, interested, unique person who is willing to serve himself up to the school community without receiving financial reward or much community acclaim.

This is why the staff of the Mexicanian would like to say that even though we may be critical at times, we dedicate this page to you to recognize the effort you expend and thank you for making our school what it is today.

Board of Education

They're Great!

We are lucky here at MACS to be blessed with a wide variety of very talented people. Our faculty ranges from ex-college coaches to all American basketball coaches. Our veteran faculty members consist of a group of people dedicated to the job of educating a group of students. Our new faculty members have strived to gain the confidence and respect of the students and the administration, and have succeeded. We, as students, are proud to be able to say MACS has the most well-rounded capable staff in the country.

Learning the facts and figures always seems difficult, until the work is made interesting and worthwhile to the students. The MACS math department is to be commended for its fine teaching techniques.

Mr. Cullen, Miss Cummings, Mr. Proud, Mr. Lauria, Mr. Shaw, Mr. Kelley, Miss Ahlsen, Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Seiter, Miss Peach, Mrs. Smith. English being the essential, most valuable course of study in high school, needs top quality instructors, such as the fine examples of the MACS English Department.

Mr. Russel, Mr. Capella, Mr. Kelly. The guidance department of MACS has taken a major step in the direction of advancement with the addition of these three people to the staff. The differences in interests and enthusiasm to help the students has shown up clearly this year. Many thanks to the Guidance department from the seniors who take up so much of their time.

Skills, Talents, Interests

Due to the dedication and hard work put forth everyday of the school year by our faculty, not only did we learn basic knowledge for use in college and jobs, but learned to apply common sense and logic in everyday life. Even though they suffered setbacks, they remained in the classroom each day, and only voiced their protests after school hours. For this, we are grateful to them.

1. Mr. Bilow is our energetic teacher of Agriculture. He is advisor for the Future Farmers of America (FFA) a club which each year brings a bit of the South up North with their oranges and grapefruits. 2. Mr. Woodrig and Mr. Herzog: art teachers who add their expertise and criticisms to the projects of the students at Mexico Academy. 3. Mr.

Hughto, a permanent substitute, is also bringing his knowledge and coaching ability in the game of lacrosse to the students at Macs. This is the first year we've attempted this sport. 4. Mr. Callaghan and Miss Melrose are the new Physical Education teachers at MACS. Their enthusiasm spur the students on to better fitness.

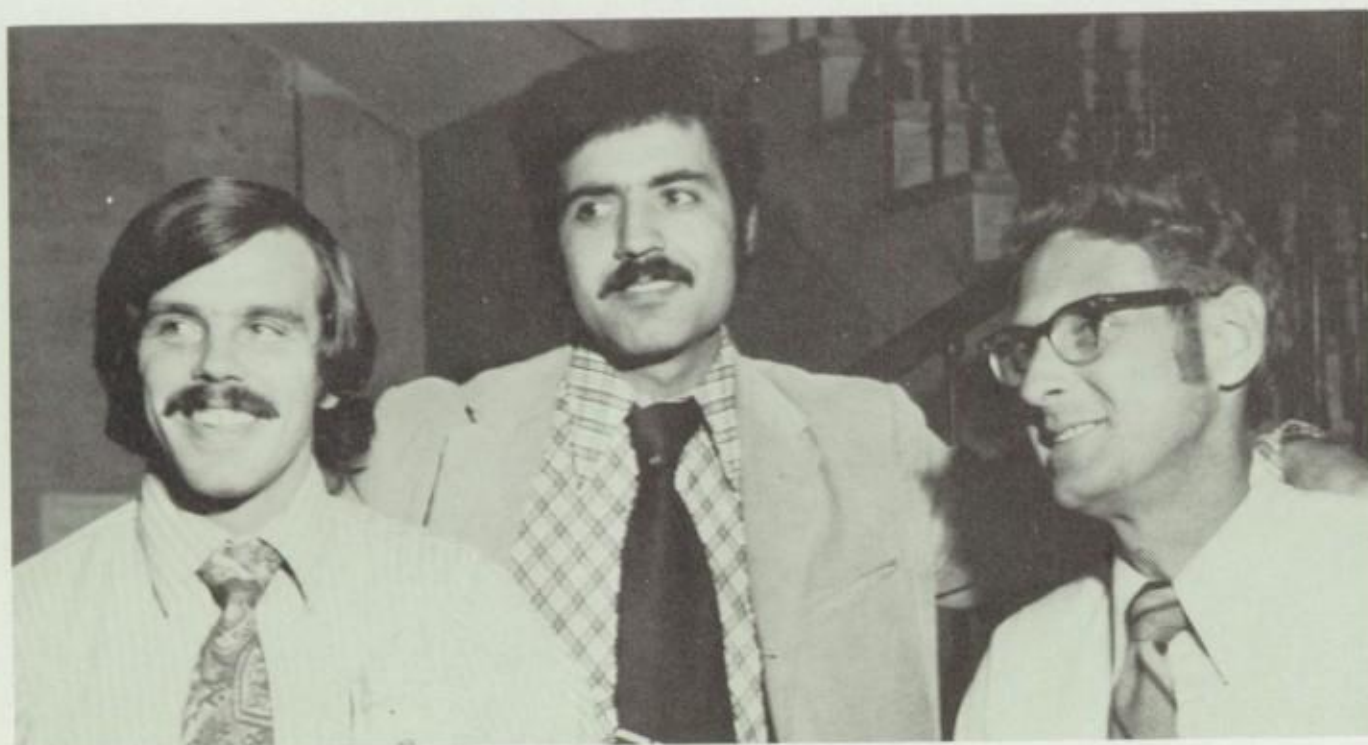

Mrs. Fransack and Mr. Yablonski—permanent substitutes. These two people take over when our regular teachers can't make it.

Mr. Meyer and Mrs. Anderson—Audio-Visual Department. The A. V. Department handles the care and distribution of the cameras, record players, cassette recorders, etc.

Mrs. Kuno, Miss Brerton, and Mrs. Watson make up our homemaking department. With their lessons in cooking, sewing, child-rearing, and family life, they help us to prepare for our future.

Mr. Williamson, Mr. Zappala and Mr. Meyer combine to make our Industrial Arts Department. Wood shop and Ceramics are some of the creative areas I.A. encompasses. These men make things very interesting and their students find I.A. to be one of the most enjoyable periods of the day.

The children of our elementary school with their boundless energy and eagerness are our hope for tomorrow. Whether they are monkeying around or involved in reading to better their minds they always manage to make the best of things.

The Road Not Taken

—Robert Frost

*Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long
I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in
the undergrowth;
Then took the other, as
just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and
wanted wear;
Though as for that, the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,*

*And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first
for another day!
Yet knowing how way
leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.*

*I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages
hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.*
